ONE MORE THING: It makes sense that the birthplace of coffee produces the finest natural processed coffees in the world. Centuries of history and perfect drying conditions help, but the meticulous care in cherry selection are what make these top lots shine. Coffee cherry is floated in water to select only the ripest densest cherries. They are spread thin on raised beds and constantly stirred by hand during the day, then mounded and covered during the night to protect from dew. The definition of precious goods – enjoy a slice of this peach!
