ONE MORE THING: Brazil turns out vast quantities of mild, sweet coffee on hundreds of thousands of farms across millions of acres. They produce around 30% of all international production & are set to become the world's largest coffee consuming country...who can blame them when you have coffee like this at your doorstep. We're charmed by the mild acidity & versatility of this estate coffee; it's superb prepared as espresso, plunger, Aeropress, Chemex & batch brew.
