ONE MORE THING: The Uraga smallholders farm is located in Guji, an area of central Ethiopia with a reputation for producing coffees with distinct, unforgettable profiles. Each year, coffee roasters and connoisseurs eagerly await the high-scoring harvest, which is handpicked at peak ripeness and processed at specialised wet mills. This year's bounty is the stuff of dreams, with bright notes of peach, early grey & blackberry syrup springing from the cup. We know what we'll be savouring all summer long!
