ONE MORE THING: Hailing from Embu County, Kenya, this refreshing coffee attributes much of its fruity profile to the magic that happens once cherries are received from the co-op members. Undergoing meticulous sorting & processing before finally being moved to raised beds for drying, the coffee then undergoes several steps of hand-sorting of parchment and is covered during the hottest hours of the day. The finished product bursts with notes of summer fruits, and while it's a go-to for filter, we dare you to try it as espresso too!
