ONE MORE THING: We're lucky to have scored this exceptional coffee. Brought to you by the 500 or so smallholders who form the Karithathi Farmers Cooperative Society, this lot is one of the most anticipated at the fortnightly auctions. Grown in the rich red volcanic soils of Kabari, a subregion of Kirinyaga county, it's also been privy to Kenya's unique double fermentation processing. All this results in a profile that's got beautiful clarity & complexity. Double down on this classic Kenyan brew, brimming with blackcurrant sweetness.
