ONE MORE THING: The coffee of Kenya is like its legendary marathon runners: reliably enduring. And here's another one for the books, with stonefruit & persimmon: the pride of Muthigi Coffee Factory, residing on a 7-acre farm in the heart of Kenya. Together with Coffee Management Services, they're boosting production with initiatives like farmer training, input access & agricultural practice seminars. A sustainable farming handbook is distributed annually, plus demonstration plots are planted to reinforce everything they've learned throughout the year. Long may they go the distance!
